"They call me a hero, but to me the real heroes are people like Congresswoman Maloney, Peter Grandich and Assemblyman Rible who have gone out of their way to support our cause and bring dignity to the sick and dying. I am awed by their outpouring of love and I want the world to know what they have done to help us," says FealGood Foundation founder John Feal.

The gala, which is being organized by volunteers, is chaired by Deborah Weiss of Colts Neck. All proceeds will go to the non-profit FealGood Foundation. Seventy percent of those brave heroes who searched the rubble in the weeks and months following the World Trade Center Collapse are now sick or have died as a result of their 9/11-related illnesses. The FealGood Foundation raises funds and advocates for the 9/11 first responder community.

The event will include a celebrity auction, golf outing, and 50/50 and will take place at the exclusive, members-only Trump National Golf Club Colts Neck.
